Mandel & Mandel LLP announces a victory for its clients in an international arbitration. David and Nina Mandel successfully defended their clients in a Swiss arbitration brought under the aegis of the ICC International Court of Arbitration. The case involved testimony from witnesses in numerous countries and concerned allegations of a breach of a non-competition agreement. Over $17 million dollars in alleged damages were at stake. The arbitration award, issued by the ICC last week, determined that the Mandels' clients were not liable and all claims against them were dismissed.
